Westfalia Nursery, a division of the company Hans Merensky Holdings, is situated in South Africa. It is a fully accredited avocado nursery, successful in the propagation and export of avocado trees on clonal rootstocks. Backed up by Merensky Technological Services who specialize in rootstock and cultivar research, our clients are the first to benefit from sought after plant material. A fully qualified pathologist ensures that our plants destined for export meet all phytosanitary requirements pertaining to the international trading of avocado trees.

The methods of clonal propagation as well as the export of mini avocado trees are shown.
